

3-on-3 Basketball Rules

How Does It Work?

Just like the name, it's 3-on-3. You'll play a round robin format, in which each team plays 11-minute game against opponents (with sudden death overtime).

What Are the Rules?

This is a fun, recreational 3-on-3 basketball game. So while we love great competition, we want everyone to play, stay involved and stay safe. The key rules are:

- 3 players on 3 players
- Scoring - Each regular field goal is worth 2 points. A successful shot from behind the 3-point arc (19'-9") is worth 3 points (only when gym is marked). Foul shots are worth 1 point. (After the game, the team that has the most fun wins)
- A game is 11-minute game/match. Each team plays the other team twice. Each game counts in the standings.
- Ball changes possession after each basket.
- Starting with the 6th foul, teams will shoot 2 foul shots (1 and 1 only if no 3-point line) with change of possession on a made 2nd shot or a live ball on a missed 2nd shot.
- Must take the ball back to top of key/3-point line on change of possession.
- Discretionary 30-second shot clock rule.
